Choosing The Size Of Your Garments

- 1 Choose a garment that you own that fits you comfortably ie a singlet for a singlet, tee for a tee, you can use a singlet to size a dress.

- 2 Take the garment off if you are wearing it. Turn it inside out and place on a flat surface, FRONT facing up.

- 3 Measure half chest from armpit to armpit as shown:

- 4 Turn top over so that BACK is facing up. Measure centre back from centre of neckline to hem as shown.

- 5 Use these measurements to select correct size from Sizing Chart supplied by Energetic Apparel

Important to note:

- Some garments will offer the option of Complimentary extra length. +2" = 5cm, +4" = 10cm. This will add extra length to your garment.
- Your training tee is often, but not always, one size larger than your dress/singlet.
- When selecting the length of your dress have someone help measure from the back. If you are doing it yourself use a mirror and don't look down. This will add length to your measurement.
